The Pianola Recital. The first of a series of pianola recitals was given yesterday afternoon between the hours of two and four at the music rooms of the F. W. Baumer Company. The two large rooms were filled with musically inclined people of Wheeling and the neighboring towns, and the recital was pronounced a glowing success. During the recital refreshments were served by Mrs. Baumer, assisted by Miss June Brainer. The next recital will occur next Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

A Peculiar Case. A vision, related by Mrs. Alex Taylor, of Toronto, has stirred up the people of that town. Scores are visiting the woman to whom the heavenly message was sent, and are hearing what was told her.

Mrs. Taylor has been dying with consumption for some days, and on Thursday became unconscious. After a time she brightened up and sent for a favorite niece, saying she had a message for her from heaven. When she came Mrs. Taylor related her experience while unconscious. She said her soul was disembodied and carried to heaven's gates. Inside she saw her husband and sister beckoning to her. She asked to go in, and St. Peter's voice said: "Not yet; go back again to earth and relate to your niece what you have seen." Mrs. Taylor describes the details of her visit and the beauty of heaven in wondrously inspired words.

Advance in Pork. Owing to the marked advances in the prices of live stock the local dealers have been forced to advance the price of pork to 12 1/2c per pound. The same advances have been made in Pittsburgh six weeks ago, but the local butchers have taken no action until to-day.

THE STATE FAIR.

Indications Point to the Most Successful of all Fairs.

ENTRIES FOR THE HORSE RACES

Are Being Secured This Week by Messrs. Anderson and Elsmann at McKee's Rocks and Jackson—Tons of Advertising Matter Being Sent Out Through the Tri-State Region The Amateur Photographic Department.

The Nineteenth Annual Fair will be the grandest and greatest aggregation of out-door attractions and agricultural exhibits and racing ever seen in this city, or within hundreds of miles. Every energy will be bent in that direction by the management, and the public may rest assured that every suggestion that long experience can furnish and every attractive idea that money can provide or enterprise secure will be put upon the programme, to the end that the people may be amused, instructed and entertained.

The West Virginia State Fair Association is energetic, enterprising, alert, progressive and liberal. It believes not only in keeping up with the times, but in advance of all other like associations, wherever located. It has a mission to perform, a reputation to sustain, and an intelligent and discriminating public to please, and in pursuance of its policy, it will be unusually enterprising this year.

Conscious that liberality in the matter of rewards for excellence has been a leading factor in the long list of successes in the history of the West Virginia State Fair and Exposition Association, the management has undertaken the preparation of the list of premiums for the Nineteenth Annual Fair, with the idea of offering greater inducements than ever before in every competitive department. The controlling idea is to assure for the farmer, the live stock owner, the poultry raiser, the merchant, the general exhibitor and those interested in the household and art departments, in the schools, textiles, fruits and all the long list of exhibits, the greatest possible inducements to make the largest and best displays ever seen upon the grounds of the association, an exposition and fair of the greatest possible interest, and an aggregation possessed of a real value as an educational exhibit, while at the same time it will be thoroughly representative of the best effort of the people of West Virginia, Ohio and western Pennsylvania. To attain this end, the premium list has been thoroughly revised and considerably enlarged, the changes being only such as will produce the very best results, and in doing this the management have not only taken advantage of their long experience, but of numerous valuable suggestions from competent friends of the association. It is believed the list as now presented to the public represents the highest standard yet attained in this direction by the association, and there is entire confidence that in comprehensiveness of grasp and liberality the West Virginia State Fair Association is not exceeded or surpassed by any similar association.

In this connection assurances are given the public that the buildings and grounds will be placed in the best and most attractive condition for the nineteenth fair, that the racing programme will be a long and excellent one, and that a programme of special amusements and attractions will be provided.

The aim has ever been to provide the largest measure of recreation, instruction and enjoyment, and for the fair of 1899 unusual endeavors will be put forth to carry this aim into effect.

All along the line great interest is being taken in the coming fair, and all the officials and department superintendents are busy individuals these days. The correspondence which Secretary George Hook each day disposes of would stagger and dismay the average business man, but the fair is Mr. Hook's pet institution, and what he wouldn't do for it is difficult to conceive. Then there is Bert Swartz, in charge of the bureau of publicity; each day this young man sends out tons (that may be stretching it a little) of premium lists, posters, lithographs, hangers and the many other advertising devices used by the association. These go to all points in eastern Ohio, western Pennsylvania and West Virginia, and it is generally conceded that this year's fair is the best advertised of any in the career of the association.

The prospects for good races are very bright. "Bob" Anderson has been spending the week at the McKee's Rock track, Pittsburgh, and O'Elsmann left yesterday for Jackson, Mich., to attend a trotting meeting. Both will secure all the entries they can for the state fair races, and already Mr. Anderson has secured a number of the best horses appearing at McKee's Rocks.

The fair's "baby" department—in point of age—is that of amateur photography, and the indications are that it will be one of the most interesting of the entire fair. There have been inquiries from about 300 amateurs throughout the tri-state radius for the premium lists and entry blanks, indicating that there will be a large and representative exhibit. In this connection, it is likely that there will be an exhibit by the Bullard Camera Company and Mr. J. H. Kirk, photographer and dealer in cameras and supplies for amateurs, promises to put in an exhibit that will shine brightly next door to the amateur show. He will also put in a dark room for the convenience of amateurs who come to the fair armed with their cameras, and will have plates and other supplies for sale in his booth. Possibly other photographers and camera manufacturers will have exhibits.

BRIEF MENTIONINGS.

Events in and About the City Given in a Nutshell.

Base ball this afternoon—Wheeling vs. Youngstown.
Niagara fishermen yesterday found a coat on the South Side which the owner can recover by calling at the engine house.

Officer William Turner donned his helmet last night and went on duty in the Second ward for the first time. "Bill" makes a brave appearance in his police togs.

The Pleasant-Valley social club will dance Thursday evening at Pleasant Valley in Welch. John will make the melody, and a very enjoyable evening is anticipated.

Yesterday afternoon on Market street, near Fourth, Officer Hitts shot and killed a horse taking fright at a street car. John will make the melody, and a very enjoyable evening is anticipated.

Special Officer John Shortz, of the Baltimore & Ohio police, assisted by M. O. McCoy, recovered a watch at Cumberland yesterday, which had been stolen from a Pan Handle engineer a few days ago.

Considerable excitement was occasioned yesterday afternoon on the South Side by a horse taking fright at a street car. John will make the melody, and a very enjoyable evening is anticipated.

Last night, in Squire Fitzpatrick's court, in the case of the state vs. Hinda Jones, in which Anna Peterson was complainant, the defendant was placed under $50 bond to keep the peace for six months. The parties to the controversy are connected with the city.

The city board of equalization and appeals met last night and partially prepared its report to council. It is now stated that Assessor Heiskell, in the north of the creek district, will show an increase in property value, and a very combined of not less than $23,000.

Francis Kelly, a ten-year-old Bendwood boy disappeared from his home Sunday morning at W. O'Clock, and since that hour no trace of his whereabouts has been learned. The Wheeling police were notified and are looking for the youngster. He wore a cap, shirt and knickerbockers.

Chief of Police Clemans calls attention to the recently passed city ordinance, which provides that bathers in the Ohio river and Wheeling creek shall wear bathing suits. The suits must be of black material, extending from shoulders to knees. The ordinance will be strictly enforced, says the chief.

Welcome council No. 84, of the Mogulians, held a very amusing street parade last night, headed by the Mogulian band. The route was over the principal streets of the city. To-day at the state fair grounds, the Mogulian band will take place, and needless to say the friends of the order will be on hand in force.

In another column appears the call for a meeting of the stockholders of the National Telephone Company, to be held at Baltimore on August 29 for the purpose of electing directors. This is the company whose franchise ordinance was turned down by council last week. The company's president, Mr. Ward and his associates intend trying again.

Two young men went to a house in East Wheeling and raised such a disturbance that Officer Allen was called and placed the pair under arrest. They "put up" for their appearance this morning. One was a traveling man from classic Boston and the other was a well known young man from the city. According to the police docket they are Will Smith and John Smith.

ABOUT HOUSE ROW

Makes Business Lively in Squire Greer's Court.

Several cases growing out of a boat house row were aired in Squire C. S. Greer's court yesterday afternoon.

George Bowers was arrested on a charge of assault and battery preferred by John Petticoe. Petticoe's personal appearance was enough to convict, as he was badly used up. After hearing the evidence, the squire fined Bowers $5 and costs.

Petticoe then swore out a peace warrant, alleging that Bowers had used profane language and threatened to do him bodily harm. On this charge he was fined a dollar and costs and placed under a bond of $50 to keep the peace for six months.

Mrs. Maggie Bowers then retaliated by causing the arrest of Petticoe, charging him with using insulting language. She had quite an array of witnesses to prove her statements, but unfortunately when they were placed on the witness stand none of them had heard an insulting word. The case was dismissed, and Bowers was accompanied by a constable, went in search of a bondsman.

Jefferson Believed in it.

In connection with the discussion of the merit of vaccination, Health Officer S. L. Jepson submits the following letter from Thomas Jefferson to Dr. Jenner, the discoverer of vaccination, which has just been reproduced in the Ohio Sanitary Bulletin:

MONTICELLO, Va., May 14, 1806. "SIR: I have received a copy of the evidence at large respecting the discovery of the vaccine inoculation which you have been pleased to send me, and for which I return you my thanks. Having been one of the early converts to the use of the globe to its efficacy, I took an early part in recommending it to my countrymen. I avail myself of this occasion to render you my portion of the tribute and gratitude due to you from the whole human family. Medicine has never before produced any single improvement of such utility. Harvey's discovery of the circulation of the blood was a beautiful addition to our knowledge of ancient anatomy; but on a review of the practice of medicine before and since that epoch, I do not see any great amelioration which has been derived from that discovery. You have traced from the calendar of human affliction one of its greatest scourges in the comfortable reflection that mankind can never forget that you have lived; future nations will know by history that the scourge of small-pox has been extirpated. Accept the most fervent wishes for your health and happiness, and assurances of the greatest respect and consideration. THOMAS JEFFERSON."
